TEN MILLIONS
FOR FOOD RED
CROSS DESIREPresident Hoover Asked
To Issue Appeal
For That Amount

Washington, Jan. 10.—(UP)—President Hoover was urged today by Judge John Barton Payne of the American Red Cross to issue an appeal to the national for a special $10,000,000 relief fund.

Mr. Hoover took the recommendation under advisement and a statement was promised later from the White House.

Payne reported that demands upon the original $5,000,000 Red Cross relief chest had increased during the last ten days to such an extent that more money is absolutely necessary.

He said the increased demands were coming particularly from Arkansas and Kentucky. They include, he said, not only requests for food to alleviate human suffering but also for feed for livestock.

Feeding Livestock
"For the first time in the history of the Red Cross we have been compelled to advance money to furnish feed for cattle and other livestock," Payne declared after his conference with Mr. Hoover. "Within the last ten days our Red Cross chapters have increased their demands upon us and our funds are melting down to the danger point."

"Since the first of the year the demands have constantly increased and will continue to grow with the increase in intensity of winter," he said.

He also answered criticism which has been made against the Red Cross system of food rationing. He explained that the national Red Cross organizations in various states and communities. Those in need apply to the local branch of the organization and are given requisitions on local stores.

If requisitions are improper or insufficient, the matter should be settled with local chapters of the Red Cross, he said.

CASH FORWARDED
St. Louis, Jan. 10.—(UP)—Additional cash grants for aid of drought sufferers were forwarded today to Red Cross chapters in three states by the Midwestern Area headquarters here.

Arkansas sufferers received the largest portion—$38,000, bringing the total aid of that state to $236,000. The other dispensations were $6,500 to Missouri, bringing the total to $36,700 for that state, and $4,000 to Texas, which previously had received no grant.

Other states in the midwestern area which have been aided are: Oklahoma, $26,688; Montana, $7,500; Illinois, $1,500 all of these amounts are in addition to money spent by chapters from their own funds.

"The need for help in the midwestern area cannot be accurately anticipated, but it is increasing daily," William G. Baxter, manager of the midwestern area, said.

All but ten of the 75 counties in Arkansas have received assistance Baxter said. Approximately 10,000 families have been aided in Missouri.

Big Liner Delayed
12 Hours By Swells

New York, Jan. 10.—(UP)—After battling high seas and heavy swells for three days of the Atlantic crossing, the North German Lloyd liner Europa warped into her pier on the North river today twelve hours late.

The vessel carried 801 passengers, among them Dr. Adolph Loretz, noted Viennese surgeon, making his 19th crossing of the Atlantic, and his son, Dr. Albert Loretz. Ralph Pulitzer and his wife returned on the vessel following an expedition of two months in Angola, Portuguese West Africa, where they collected several hundred specimens for the Carnegie Museum of Pittsburgh.

New State Treasurer Takes Office Monday

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Approval of bond of one million dollars for Edward J. Barrett, Chicago, Democratic State Treasurer-elect, was filed with Secretary of State William J. Stratton here today. The bond was approved by Governor L. L. Emmerson and Supreme Court Justices Frederic de Young and Warren Orr, and was divided in two parts of half a million dollars each.

Filing of the approved bond now paves the way for Barrett to take over his office Monday. He was administered the oath of office by the legislature Wednesday.

Preparations for Barrett to take control of the office will be completed here today and tomorrow.

Diamond Guarded on Leaving N. Y.

Fearing further attempts on Jack "Legs" Diamond's life, an escort of police and friends accompanied the gang leader when he was released the other day from Metropolitan Hospital, New York. Diamond, who has been convalescing from bullet wounds received from unknown gunmen last October, is shown here bundled in a heavy gray coat, with the collar turned up and a gray cap pulled low on his head, as he is entrained for the seclusion of his estate at Acra, N. Y.

SENATOR WRIGHT
WILL AGAIN HEAD
APPROPRIATIONSMembership Of Important
Legislative Committees
Decided

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—(UP)—"Old Heads" will man most chairmanships of important committees of the Illinois General Assembly, which reconvenes after a week's recess on Wednesday, it was reliably learned here today.

Makeup of the committees, including both chairmen and personnel, has been underway in both houses of the legislature for several days. Speaker David E. Shanahan, Republican, Chicago, directing activities of this nature in the House and Senator Harold C. Kessinger, Republican, Aurora, and a committee of eleven Senators of which he is chairman, in charge in the Senate.

Details as to personnel of committees are not expected to be completed for several weeks but the United Press was informed that at least eight chairmen of Senate committees have been tentatively agreed on.

Senator Harry C. Wright, Republican, De Kalb, will again head the Appropriations committee, and Senator Earl B. Searcy, Republican, Springfield, will be in charge of the Revenue committee.

Other committee chairmen said to have been agreed on are as follows: Judiciary—James J. Barbour, Chicago.

Military affairs — Richard R. Meents, Askum.

Insurance — Harold C. Kessinger, Aurora.

Agriculture—Simon E. Lantz, Conventville.

Executive—Martin R. Carlson, Moline.

Roads—Henry M. Dunlap, Champagne.

Savoy — Edward S. Cuthbertson, Bunker Hill.

With the exception of Carlson and Meents all the above served in the same capacity in the last session. All are Republicans.

In the House Representative Homer Tice, Greenville, is expected to again head the Appropriations committee, and David Swanson, Chicago, to be chairman of the Judiciary committee.

Farmers Help To Feed Dixon Needy

The fine plan of the Lee County Farm Bureau to have generous-hearted farmers bring in grain to be ground into flour and cereals for the unemployed people of Dixon is bearing fruit and the first donation has come from Palmyra township. John Sheaffer of that township, who is a director on the farm board, brought a bushel of corn and a bushel of oatmeal to the welfare headquarters over Sullivan's drug store yesterday.

and he predicted that many other farmers in Palmyra and in other townships in the county would do the same.

Some farmers have agreed to bring potatoes or other staple foods for the Goodfellow Club to distribute to needy people.

There are scores of families in Dixon who are dependent upon outside help this winter because of lack of employment, and such gifts will be gratefully appreciated.

COTTON GOODS VALUES

Washington.—(UP)—The total value of cotton goods manufactured in the United States in 1929 was $1,454,529,071, according to a preliminary calculation of data collected by the census bureau in its census of manufacturers taken in 1929.

OLD VIOLIN IS FORTUNE
Marion, Va.—(UP)—J. T. Brinkley, an octodecennial of Wayne county, Va., is all excited at the prospect of selling his antique "fiddle" for $40,000 or $50,000. He was playing the instrument recently when two musically cultured young men passed by and went in to investigate.

They found a label reading "1716 Antonio Stradivarius" inside the instrument. It is reported that a Roanoke man already has offered Brinkley $40,000 for the violin.

SHARP CONTRASTS
IN UNEMPLOYMENT
CONDITIONS SEENDetroit Rejoices Over Ford
Announcement Of Activity

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(UP)—Sharp contrasts in unemployment and re-employment developments in the midwest were seen today with thousands of men preparing to go back to work in some places as hundreds threatened violence at others in pressing their demands for work.

While Detroit rejoiced over Henry Ford's recall of 50,000 men to work next Monday, unemployment in Terre Haute, Ind., Elsbree, Ariz., and Oklahoma City led to protest meetings and in some cases violence was threatened.

At Terre Haute about 100 unemployed men yesterday marched upon a construction camp where about 50 Mexicans were working. They demanded that the Mexicans quit their jobs. About half of the Mexicans agreed to leave and the local men said they would apply for the jobs Monday. One of the unemployed men fired two revolver shots into the air when some of the Mexican laborers refused to comply with the order to get out.

W. E. Fry, city manager of Oklahoma City, considered today the demands which 500 unemployed men handed him after a mass meeting outside his office. The petitioners were orderly and the police who were called were not needed. Among other things, the unemployed demanded empty houses in the city be furnished with light and heat.

At Elsbree, Ariz., 200 jobless men announced they would march today to the construction site of the Lowell school house and demand that more men be employed there at higher wages. The group yesterday brought about a strike of several scores of men working on the new Cochise county courthouse.

Workers at the courthouse left their posts to demand that five Negroes employed with them be discharged and their jobs given to white men at salaries of $4 a day instead of $3.

Another unemployment development came at Phoenix, Ariz., where Gov. George W. P. Hunt withdrew support of his state from the federal-state employment bureau, and said that "the state of Arizona welcomes the opportunity to handle its local unemployment situation alone."

Hunt said state support of the movement was withdrawn because the federal Labor Department is so bound with red tape as to constitute a hindrance rather than a help.

John E. Sanders,
Franklin, Called

(Telegraph Special Service)
Franklin, Jan. 10.—John E. Sanders passed away this morning at his home north of this place. Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 from the family residence at 1:30 with interment in the Emmert cemetery. The obituary will be published later.

Members at Work
Three of the five members of the power commission went ahead today with routine business. Chairman Smith, after a brief visit to his office, returned to his home. Garsaud and Draper joined Smith in declining to comment. Commissioner Williamson, unaffected by the Senate's vote, also was silent and Commissioner McNinch, who is ill, remained at his hotel.

Under the act of establishing the commission, it began to operate when a quorum of three had been sworn in. Smith, Garsaud and Draper took office before McNinch and Williamson and were the three who voted the dismissals.

Russell and King visited commission headquarters today. Neither has relinquished the office space during the controversy.

Russell said each had applied for reappointment but this was done merely as a formality to conform with the resolution adopted by the commission asking all former employees to take that step.

JUDGE EDWARDS SUSTAINED
PLEA THAT JANUARY PETIT
JURY WAS ILLEGALLY DRAWNAll Trials In Which
Objections Are Filed
Will Go Over

Attorney Edward Jones of the firm of Brooks & Jones this morning in the Circuit Court, challenged the manner in which jurors, selected to serve on the petit juries for the January term of court, were named, holding in his argument that the women were named on the panels and that the jurors were illegally drawn because of that fact. The attorneys appeared in court defending Floyd Thacker Thacker, who was indicted by a special September grand jury on two charges of larceny.

When Thacker appeared in court with his counsel, the point was raised. State's Attorney Mark Keller presented the resolution which was adopted by the Board of Supervisors at their December meeting and cited that board's action in naming women on the petit jury panels for the January term.

The plea of Attorney Jones that the panel of petit jurors for the January term which would be called upon to sit through the hearing of Thacker's trial, was illegally drawn was sustained by Judge Harry Edwards. Thacker was then taken back to the county jail and will probably remain in custody until the April term when women will be included on the jury lists which have been selected by the Board of Supervisors.

As the result of the objection to the jury lists selected for the present January term, it was intimated at noon today, that in all cases where objections are made, those cases will go over to the April term of the Circuit Court, and that in cases where no objection is made, the trials will proceed with the present panels serving.

Thacker, a former Illinois Central telegraph operator, is held in a prison in the county jail charged with the theft of hogs and his alleged complicity in a series of other thefts during the late summer. It was stated at the State's Attorney's office this morning that Thacker was indicted by the January grand jury in Bureau county for the theft of 24 hogs from the farm of a stock raiser in the vicinity of Walnut. The stolen hogs together with other loot, consisting of harness and tools, were located on a farm in South Dixon township last fall, following an investigation conducted by the sheriff's office.

PROMPT ANSWER TO SENATE FROM CHIEF EXPECTED

President Not Expected to Re-submit Power
Commissioners

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Hoover today declined to re-submit to the Senate the nominations of Chairman Smith and Commissioners Garsaud and Draper of the Power Commission.

Washington, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Hoover was said today at the White House to be planning a reply without delay to the Senate resolution requesting return of the nominations of three Power Commissioners.

The procedure, as explained, calls first for a conference with Attorney General Mitchell.

The right of the Senate to follow the course taken in the resolution was questioned on constitutional grounds during the five days debate.

While there was no indication of the stand which will be taken by the President's supporters on Capitol Hill, a predicted rejection of the Senate request. He intends to draft his reply as soon as possible after consulting Mitchell.

The resolution adopted by a 44 to 37 vote, was aimed at Chairman Smith and Commissioners Garsaud and Draper.

Under the act of establishing the commission, it began to operate when a quorum of three had been sworn in. Smith, Garsaud and Draper took office before McNinch and Williamson and were the three who voted the dismissals.

Russell and King visited commission headquarters today. Neither has relinquished the office space during the controversy.

Russell said each had applied for reappointment but this was done merely as a formality to conform with the resolution adopted by the commission asking all former employees to take that step.

SAVED HIS BURIED TREASURE
Springfield, Mass.—(UP)—When a steam shovel began operations near by recently, the pet dog of nurses of Springfield Hospital visited several points in the shovel's path, unearthed bones it had buried and carted them into the nurses' dormitory for their distant destination.

They were carrying a load of about three tons, including 300 gallons of gasoline, twenty gallons of oil and about 250 pounds "pay load."

The water in Hamilton harbor was a bit rough but apparently it made no difference to the Tradewind. Lieutenant MacLaren said he hoped to reach Horta in about 21 hours. This would bring them to the Azores at about 8:15 A. M. Sunday, Eastern Standard Time.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Jan. 10.—The monoplane Tradewind hopped off for the Azores at 12:15 P. M. (11:15 A. M. E. S. T.) on the second leg of a "pay load" flight from New York to Paris.

Local weather conditions were favorable as Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieut. William S. MacLaren took off on their 2,000 mile all-water hop across the Atlantic.

The graceful white ship lifted easily after a long run across the clear, blue water of the harbor. Visitors, wearing the summer clothes characteristic of the semi-tropical island, waved and cheered from the shore as the two fliers circled the city and nosed out across the ocean toward their distant destination.

They were carrying a load of about three tons, including 300 gallons of gasoline, twenty gallons of oil and about 250 pounds "pay load."

SCORE TRAPPED
BY CAVE-IN OF
'FRISCO TUNNELAre Saved From Death By
Quick Wits Of A
Fellow Worker

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Trapped by a cave-in they were working to prevent, but saved from death by the quick wits of a fellow laborer, 20 men awaited deliverance today from a tunnel of the Hetch Hetchy municipal water project.

Rescue crews boring through the debris were impeded by new cave-ins as they remembered the tunnel. Rescue operations began immediately after the first cave-in, which occurred early last night.

The slide, 400 feet from the east entrance, occurred near the spot where 12 men were killed by an explosion of methane gas in the tunnel last July.

The stretch where the men were working, 750 feet below the surface, is known as the most dangerous section of the tunnel through the coast range, east of San Francisco.

Men Get Warning
The night shift was replacing weakened timbers to prevent a cave-in on a short stretch between concrete walled sections of the tunnel when cracking timbers and falling rock warned them of the danger. The workers dropped their tools and fled. Several got out before the slide.

The lives of those who were trapped were saved by the presence of mind and daring of Wesley Morgan, 28, one of those who escaped. With the first warning of falling rock, he seized a 20 foot length of four-inch iron pipe and dropped it in what he thought would be the center of the cave-in. His guess was right, the pipe extending entirely through the 16 feet of debris and furnished air to his entrapped fellows.

The workmen had scarcely broken for freedom when the roof caved in, hitting several with flying rocks and knocking others down with the rush of air. However, none was reported seriously injured.

SPECIAL RULES
TO GET DROUGHT
RELIEF WORKING

Administration Leaders In House Move To Break Deadlock

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Jan. 10.—(UP)—The House deadlock over drought relief legislation was broken today by administration leaders, who decided at a meeting of the steering committee to force a conference with the Senate Monday under a special rule.

House leaders hope in this way to eliminate the $15,000,000 amendment for human food, added by the Senate and opposed by President Hoover.

It is because of this amendment that the bill has been held up for five days in the house. When the measure which originally called for $45,000,000 for stock feed loans and other purposes, came back to the House with the Senate amendment, it was immediately objected to a conference unless assured that food loans would be available to city dwellers as well as farmers. Laguardia continued to object each successive day.

Before the House went into session today the Republican steering committee was called to devise a special rule under which a conference can be held despite objections.

Chairman Will R. Wood of the Appropriations committee attended the steering committee meeting. Rep. Tilton, Rep. Conn, majority floor leader, said "we are willing to listen to reason, and to consider the various interests in this bill."

At the opening of the House session Wood made a final effort to send the bill to conference by unanimous consent, but Laguardia again objected, and the special rule will be utilized to get action.

MADE MOVE TO
RE-ESTABLISH
VICE PROFITSState Defeats Effort To
To Free Brothers On Habeas Corpus

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Detectives captured two intimates of Leo V. Brothers and found "important evidence" in an early morning raid today on one of the apartments where Brothers, held secretly for the murder of Jake Lingle, once lived.

Charles F. Rothman and Pat Roche special investigators, conducted the raid, taking their prisoners to a secret office to question them. They refused to reveal whom they had captured, but John A. Swanson, State's Attorney, hinted that the arrests were significant.

"At this time," he said, "it is inadvisable to reveal the names of the prisoners or the substance of the records which were seized. The men will be questioned during the day and with information which we already possess and that which we expect to gain, important disclosures are imminent."

The records, which deal largely with Brothers' movements over the past nine months, will be carefully checked with the information which we now have. To give out any further information we feel would hamper the efforts of our men, which are now rapidly yielding fruit."

CAPONE INFORMED?
Chicago, Jan. 10.—(UP)—"Scarface" Al Capone, struggling to re-establish fading underworld profits, was credited today with being the agency through which Leo Brothers was trapped in a ducal of the murder of Jake Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, seven months after the spectacular shooting.

The information, uncovered exclusively by the United Press, has its beginning in the days when Lingle, ostensibly a $65-a-week reporter, was dipping into underworld profits to the extent of thousands yearly. From that point, when the racketeering reporter presumably incurred the ire of the powerful Aiello-Moran northside gambling syndicate, through a series of outstanding gang murders, the information dovetails with the unsolved killing on police blotters.

Having crossed the northsiders, Lingle was murdered in a pedestrian subway, apparently at the dictation of Jack Zuta and Joe Aiello, since assassinated, so the illicit activities of Capone's gangsters on the south side would be curbed by the subsequent outbreak of public indignation.

"Heat Turned On"
In gang vernacular, the "heat" was turned on" after Lingle's death. Capone's profits shrank to the vanishing point under police drives, his saloons were closed. Gambling houses and vice resorts which had poured wealth into Capone's coffers, were darkened.

Capone, with his machine gunners, struck back.

Jack Zuta was attacked one August night in a police automobile in brilliantly lighted State street. Later that month the grinning Moran gangster was murdered by a band of machine gunners in a Delafield, Wis., dance hall as he dropped nickels into a mechanical piano.

A few days before the November elections, Joe Aiello was ambushed in his northwest side hiding place by two gangs of machine gunners.

It was the most spectacular gang killing since the St. Valentine's Day massacre.

Although Zuta and Aiello, the "big shots" of the northside had fallen victims to Capone's vengeance, police still suppressed Capone's "businesses." Gangsters were hailed before Judge H. Lyle, and held on bonds so high even a gangster couldn't raise them. Several were sent to jail for carrying concealed weapons, a most unprecedented thing in Chicago court history. Several gangsters were convicted on vagrancy charges, a blow at a gangster's vanity.

Cowan, according to the police, admitted being on the trip but denies obtaining any money. Mrs. Beavers says she received $40 and Cowan took the rest.

One Killed In Gas Reservoir Blast

Copenhagen, Denmark, Jan. 10.—(AP)—One man was killed, one was missing and another seriously injured today when a violent explosion wrecked one of the largest gas tanks of the municipal gas works here. Several other persons were less seriously hurt.
Four men were dismantling the tank, which they thought empty, when the explosion came. One man fell through the top of the huge container and was burned to death. The others were thrown some distance by the force of the blast.
The explosion partially wrecked a store nearby and four young women in the place were injured. Windows in many houses in the vicinity were broken.
Firemen said the explosion was caused by a spark from one of the workmen's hammers igniting gas remaining in the tank.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(UP)—The body of Anthony "Sherlock" Gasterino, believed by police to have been "taken for a ride" by rival alcohol dealers, was found early today in the tony of an automobile in a deserted neighborhood on the far south side.
Gasterino was manager of a roadhouse in Chicago and Hammond, Ind. Police pointed out that several gangsters of Italian descent had been killed in the past few weeks, supposedly in an "alcohol war."
From the evidence, it was believed Gasterino had been shot elsewhere and his body placed in the automobile. One bullet wound was found in the head and the body was covered with a tattered bed quilt.

Glance At Aimee Was A Diagnosis

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(UP)—When Dr. Henry Amberson gazed at Aimee Semple McPherson on a California ferryboat, he did so with a professional eye, and not for the purpose of carrying on a flirtation, he told Superior Judge Rudolph Desort.
Replying with a suit for divorce to the separate maintenance sought by his wife, Nellie, who charged that the specialist had flirted with the evangelist, Dr. Amberson said:
"All I did was to look at Mrs. McPherson, and that was professional. My interest, you see, was to find out the makeup of a woman like Mrs. McPherson—sort of a diagnosis."

FEDERAL AGENT HERE TO PROBE LIQUOR CARGO

Driver Of Car Taken In East End Of Co. To Be Quizzed

A federal Department of Justice investigator from the office of Col. J. F. J. Herbert of Chicago was in Dixon today conferring with Sheriff Fred L. Richardson and Chief Deputy Ward Miller, in an investigation into what is believed by federal authorities, to be a huge illicit liquor ring operating in the larger cities of the state. A load of alleged Canadian liquor which was seized by deputies from the Lee county Sheriff's office one week ago today on route 70 in the east end of the county, enroute from Springfield to Rockford, was being investigated.
Orlando Yannon, aged 20, driving a high priced coupe, equipped with truck springs and tires in the rear, which attracted the attention of the two deputy sheriffs, was followed after a 70-mile chase and liquor was found piled on the seat of the car. He was arrested for speeding and brought to Dixon, where a search warrant was secured, which revealed ten cases of alleged Canadian whisky in pint bottles packed in the rear of the car.
Yannon is said to have stated that he was hauling the consignment of liquor both in bottles and in bulk to Rockford from Springfield. Friends of Yannon, said to have come to Dixon from Washington Park, a suburb of Chicago, and an attorney from Freeport were in the city Wednesday. The attorney conferred with State's Attorney Mark Keller at the court house.
The Department of Justice agents were said to be conducting an investigation into the case with a view of uncovering a huge "cutting" plant where alcohol is colored, flavored and bottled under spurious labels to be sold in the larger cities of the state as distilled Canadian whiskey.

Five Convicts Make Escape From Prison

Sault Ste. N. M., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Five convicts escaped from the state penitentiary here today through a 70-foot tunnel which led under the prison walls.
Authorities estimated the convicts had spent at least 10 months constructing the tunnel.
Bloodhounds trailed the convicts a short distance from the prison and then lost the scent.
It was announced officially that the prison guards had been suspended because of the escape.
The men who escaped were: Jose Fernandez, designated by prison officials as a "bad man"; Dave Morris; Pedro Gomez; Cabino Rodriguez and Louis Rodriguez.
Officials believed the men had been met by friends outside the prison and driven away in automobiles.
It was estimated the escape was made between 1 and 6 A. M.

Tear Gas Exploded In Daily News Bldg.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—(UP)—Hundreds of commuters hurrying through the concourse of the Daily News building gave way to tears today when a "dud" bomb in a window exhibit suddenly exploded, scattering glass and shrapnel over each other trying to retreat.
Lieut. Wallace Wright, in the act of satisfying the curiosity of a spectator, pulled out the trigger pin of the bomb, which he supposed had been emptied of its tear gas.
The bomb sizzled. The lieutenant dropped it. The curiosity of the spectator was realistically satisfied and he fled. Passing crowds wept copiously in the jolting atmosphere and fell over each other trying to retreat.
The Army officer groped for the bomb, seized it and dashed for a door where he hurled it into the Chicago river.

derer but only after the Capone "execution squad" had taken the slayer "for a ride."
Roche is said to have refused to bargain for only the body of Lingle's killer. He wanted the murderer alive. Capone finally yielded and passed the word along to Roche that Brothers was the man and told where he could be found.
Acting on that information, Roche trapped Brothers in a south side apartment, but he has yet to be charged formally with the Lingle killing.

Keep Prisoner Hidden

Roche and State's Attorney John A. Swanson were victorious late yesterday in their efforts to keep Brothers in a secret prison despite efforts of a former friend of Lingle's to have him released on a writ of habeas corpus.
The attempt to gain Brothers' freedom was made by Attorney Tye-tyl Krum, former employee of the Tribune, who said he was hired by Brothers' mother, who lives in St. Louis.
Krum's plea that the writ hearing be held at once was denied and it was set for Jan. 14. By that time Roche said, Brothers will be indicted and held without bond.

A wireless dispatch from the Gisla reported that four members of the crew of the Richmond were safe on board.

Pekin Post G. A. R. Is Dissolved Today

Pekin, Ill., Jan. 10.—(UP)—The Joe Hanna Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, organized Nov. 25, 1881, by 257 Civil War veterans was dissolved today.
Henry L. Koch and Fred Spillman, the only surviving members, abandoned the organization after deciding it was a lonesome business conducting the Post's affairs alone. They were made honorary members of Pekin camp 25 of the United Spanish War Veterans.
AURORA MAN IS 102.
Aurora, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The secret of longevity is "to be interested in what's going on all the time," W. W. Church, one of Illinois' oldest residents, said today as he celebrated his 102nd anniversary.
One way to do it is to travel, he said, adding that until he was injured in a fall last summer he made a regular practice of touring the country.

Manitoba Is Still Awaiting Winter

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 10.—(UP)—Manitoba still is waiting for winter. Blackbirds and wild ducks which ordinarily would have migrated south months ago show no signs of leaving.
Dust instead of the usual snow blows along streets in Alberta cities. Manitoba's lakes are comparatively ice free.
Temperatures hang around the melting point and give no indication of swooping down to 30 degrees below zero as might be expected at this time of the year.
Old-times predict the rest of the winter will be pleasant.

BY A FROZEN SPRING
ONE Winter trails his cloak across the hill.

Looks back and leaves the mute mask of his face Caught in the holow, sullen, gray and still.

And feels the desolation of the place

With a sharp breath of bitter brief regret;

But we who saw an earlier mystery Of thorny vine and ferny brink and fret.

Of soft-sown grass and glimpse of crystal sky.

Know that a song lies pent beneath this hush.

A song of unforgotten things and sweet.

The year's white birth, the first notes of the thrush.

Red Dawns and April's yellow sunsets fleet;

So, beneath mask of age, lies hid time's truth.

The throbbing, hoping, singing heart of Youth.

—Virginia Woodward Cloud, in "A Reed by the River."

Broiled Steak
(Serving 6)
3½ pound sirloin steak
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Wipe steak with damp cloth. Place in frying pan and broil 10 minutes, 6 inches below a glowing flame. Turn once during this time. Sprinkle with the salt and paprika and dot with the butter. Add the parsley and serve at once on hot platter. If "well done" steak is desired, it requires 2 more minutes cooking. Steak for broiling should be cut from 1½ inches to 2 inches thick. Only tender cuts of meat can be broiled.

Filled Cookies
1 cup fat
2 cups light brown sugar
3 eggs
4 tablespoons cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon extract
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
½ cups flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
Cream the fat and sugar. Add the eggs and cream and beat 2 minutes. Add rest of ingredients. Shape into 2 rolls two inches in diameter. Chill 24 hours. Use sharp knife and cut off thin slices. ### Paris Styles

By MARY KNIGHT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Paris, Jan. 8.—(UP)—After battle for the most popular color combination for mid-winter costumes, Paris has come out black and blue. It is charming and the effects are achieved in such distinctly feminine ways that the men are beginning to wonder what has happened.

A little blue velvet bow on a black velvet hat, placed right over one ear or high on the crown gives a coquettish flourish. There is also a fascination about feathers not easily omitted, and a couple of perky blue quills fastened in the side of a chic black felt has an extraordinary ornamental effect.

A "decoupe" introduced at the extreme right side of another felt shows a blue pin. Little soft curls of hair peeking out just underneath—well, what could be more feminine?

Suede leather associates itself with shoes and gloves but dressmakers have discovered the existence of a mode of adopting it for the hat as well. It is as soft and pliable as satin and has a lovely dull rich appearance noticeable on some types of velvet. Therefore it is modeled into delightful tricorn hats of the black and blue vogue. One shares the colors without partiality, exactly half and half and directly from the center of the front to the center of the back. When "dressed up" it sports a suede clip that is simply suave.

Reconciliation May Beat the Divorce

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Possibility of a reconciliation between Lina Basquette, film actress and Peverell Marley, motion picture photographer, from whom she recently obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce, was admitted by the actress today.

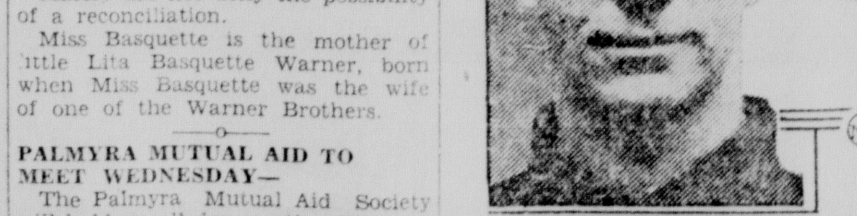

"Peverell always has been, and probably always will be the only one for me," Miss Basquette said. "While it will take some time to tell about a reconciliation, the divorce decree is not yet final."

Marley did not deny the possibility of a reconciliation.

Miss Basquette is the mother of a little Lita Basquette Warner, born when Miss Basquette was the wife of one of the Warner Brothers.

Washington police have instituted a wide spread search for the "phantom slayer" of 19-year-old Beniah Limerick, a theater usher. She is shown at the right in a recent photo. Robert F. Langdon, upper left, a patrolman, was arrested for questioning after his fellow officers had become suspicious of his unusual dexterity in uncovering clues surrounding the case. He later was released. William H. Limerick, lower left, a brother of the slain girl, also was questioned by police. The girl's death apparently had been due to natural causes and it was not until her body was being prepared for burial that an undertaker discovered a bullet hole in her head.

Heard Concert in Bal Tabarin, at Sherman

A number of the Dixonites in attendance at the Civic Music Concert Conference being held in Chicago at the Palmer House, were delightfully entertained on Thursday afternoon at a concert at the Bal Tabarin at the Hotel Sherman, where Manuel and Williamson, who appeared in Dixon several years ago, as the artists. The played a stringed quartette (concerted). The first number was "The Echo by Bach; the second number was the last movement of the Concerto in C Minor, also by Bach. The fourth was Mozart's Minuet, with two harpsichords, string quartette and flute. This was exquisitely and daintily executed. Last but not least, two grand pianos the artists played. The Coronation Boris Godounoff, a Russian bit which was pronounced marvelous. All those who heard Manuel and Williamson are hoping at some time to hear them in Dixon again, where they met with great approval on their first appearance here.

Two Pct. Reduction In Fall Wheat Sown

Springfield, Ill.—(UP)—Reduction of 46,000 acres or approximately two per cent in the amount of fall wheat sown in Illinois this season as compared with last year was revealed in a joint report of the state and federal Departments of Agriculture, made public here.

The fall sown acreage is placed at 2,249,000 acres compared with 2,295,000 acres sown in the fall of 1929, 2,467,000 acres in the fall of 1928, and the five year average (1924-1928) of 2,557,000 acres.

The majority of counties in the southern part of the state, or soft wheat area, have increased their fall planted acreage, the report stated. However, the increased acreage in that area was more than offset by the substantial decrease in most of the central and northern counties or the important hard wheat area.

A survey of the condition of winter wheat in the state on December 1, showed that it compared favorably with the same time of last year. Conditions averages, according to the report, are somewhat better for southern Illinois than in any other extended area. However, there is less variation than usual in condition reports from over the entire state.

An increase of 30 per cent is reported.

ENGLAND RANKS AS LARGE BUYER U. S. MADE GOODS

Pushes Canada as Outlet for Our Agricultural Products

London.—(UP)—Great Britain is the best export market that the United States has with the single exception of Canada. United States trade experts said today that agricultural products compose over half of the British imports from the United States.

In 1929 over $25,000,000 worth of lard was sold by United States firms to Great Britain. This agricultural product realized two and a half times as much as automobiles exported to Great Britain. Purchases of lard in 1930 promise to exceed those of 1929, according to trade authorities.

Great Britain consumes one-half of all the fresh apples, one-third of all the raisins and two-thirds of all the canned fruit exported from the United States. After Canada, Great Britain imports more oranges than any other foreign country.

The Orient is replacing Great Britain as a buyer of United States cotton, tobacco and wheat.

One American fruit broker said to a United Press representative today that a Liverpool firm has placed a request for 360 carloads of Pacific Coast apples to be delivered at once. The apple crop on the Continent is small, and for the first time in a number of years the Continent is importing apples.

Further official figures show that Great Britain purchases three times more evaporated milk, seven times more bacon and 85 times more ham than any other importer of American produce.

Each year Great Britain buys about half as many fresh grapefruit grown in Florida, California, Texas, Arizona and New Mexico, as Canada and eight times as much as canned grapefruit as all European nations combined.

Great Britain is also the largest buyer of United States grown barley, oats, oatmeal, rice, wheat, hops, oil cake, tobacco, and refined sugar.

THE DREAMS OF BOYHOOD.

The adventures of boyhood—those wild, confident questions in which dragons hide just behind the next hill, pirates lurk in the cove a few miles down the old creek—always make good reading. And it seems to us that the boyhood anecdote they are telling now on Floyd B. Olson, the new governor of Minnesota, is one of the best.

When he was very young, Mr. Olson and his playmates got to reading about the Crusades. The Crusades looked like very fine stuff to them, so they agreed to go to Palestine and fight the Saracens; and half a dozen of them fitted action to the word by leaving their homes and walking 10 miles or so to the river docks at St. Paul. They planned to get on a boat there, float down the Mississippi to New Orleans and take a steamer there for the Holy Land. Evidently they were up on their geography if not on their history.

But the expedition came to grief, as such expeditions always do. They got to the docks all right, but when they asked for jobs as cabin boys on a river steamer they met disillusionment. Instead of furthering their designs, an unfeeling mate bluntly and profanely told them to get off of the boat or they would "get thrown in the river."

So ended the boyish quest for adventure; and when you stop to think that all of boyhood's strivings for romance end in precisely the same way, you may wonder why it is that so many grown men yearn eternally for a return of boyhood. For boyhood is doomed to disappointment, and disappointments are not pleasant. What sensible adult would care to go back to an age where every fair surmise is followed by unmistakable disillusionment?

The answer, of course, lies in the fact that if boyhood gets let down with pitiless regularity, it at least has the dreams. It has the capacity for believing things; the capacity for imagining that the world, beyond the horizon if not at home, is just what one would have it, the innocent courage to suppose that one can be what he wants to be and do what he wants to do if only he can get away from the prosaic surroundings and skeptical grown-ups of his immediate neighborhood.

That capacity is simply invaluable; and what makes most of us look back with wistful eyes is the fact that we lose it as we grow up. We do not drop everything to go half way around the globe and hunt Saracens, because we know that the Saracens are not there—or that there is, at least, a closed season on them. We know, in short, too much for our own good.

But we never completely lose that childish expectancy. Or, if we do, we die forthwith. For life is mainly a looking-forward, an anticipation. There must be a better country, a clearer air, a brighter sunshine, somewhere ahead of us. We may know better, but we cling to a shadow of belief, just the same. We could not keep going if we did not.

A COMMISSION FOR NICARAGUA.

The killing of a group of marines in Nicaragua has led to new demands in the United States Senate that American occupation of that country be ended forthwith; and the whole subject doubtless will come in for extensive discussion this winter.

In this connection, we are reminded that one of President Hoover's most notable accomplishments to date was the study he had a commission make of conditions in Haiti, another nation where the American marines have found lots of employment. As a result of that study, the Haitian situation at last bids fair to be ironed out in a manner satisfactory to all concerned.

Could not something similar be attempted in Nicaragua? In our relations with that nation we have been drifting, at the mercy of events, for years. Would not a repetition of the Haitian investigation be valuable?

Knox College students raised a fund of $400 to maintain their baseball team. Is this the stitch in time that saved nine?

Then there was the Scotch visitor in Paris who carefully examined all his coins when he was warned to beware the Latin quarter.

It has just occurred to the office sage that the back who ran toward the opposite goal took too much to heart the saying, "Turn about is fair play."

In these days, opines the office sage, a criminal sent away on a long sentence either makes a dash or serves a short period.

The baseball moguls who have ordered heavier baseballs for the coming season reckon, no doubt, that it will be best in the long run.

The motor truck ploughed through the grass and Scouty said, "Gee, if we pass real safely through this maze of growth I'll really be surprised. I've never seen grass quite as tall and I don't think we're safe at all. I would have kicked against this trip, if I had realized."

The kindly Travel Man replied, "Now, don't you worry 'bout this ride. I'm sure that I can get us through. Just leave the task to me. We'll make the trip, at any cost. There's little chance that we'll get lost. It won't be long till all we'll see is grass on every side."

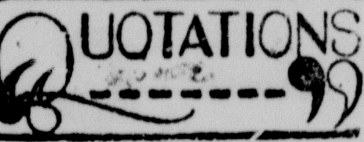

Wee Clowdy thought a while and said, "How will you know which way to head? If there is naught but grass to see, what will we use as a guide? Do we go North, or South? 'm blest if I can tell. Perhaps it's West or East. I think that we are going to have a funny ride."

The Travel Man just smiled a bit. "I have a compass in my kit," said he. "That's what we'll travel by. Why don't you Tynies sleep? A snooze will do you heaps of good. Get comfy now. I think you should. Don't worry 'bout my driving. Very careful watch I'll keep."

And so the Tynies did as told and through the grass the big truck rolled. The small town of Bukama soon appeared, not far away. The Tynies woke up with a start each one with new hope in his heart. The Travel Man said, "Now, we're safe!" The Tynies cried, "Hurrah!"

The little town filled them with awe. The first thing that wee Clowdy saw was some queer looking fellow who was dressed in real old clothes. "My goodness, who is that?" he cried. And then the Travel Man replied, "Why, he's the old witch doctor and a strange man, goodness knows."

(The Tynies see some strange fishermen in the next story.)

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

"VICTORY DAY PROGRAM"

Theme: "Observance and Enforcement, Not Repeat," of a program to be given in the Methodist church, Friday evening, January 16th at 7:30 o'clock.

Next week we shall be observing all over the land the eleventh birthday of the National Constitutional Prohibition. Innumerable reasons for rejoicing on this day will occur to everyone. We suggest eleven outstanding ones that may be mentioned:

1. National Constitutional Prohibition has done away with that obnoxious, vicious institution, the saloon.
2. It has made the liquor traffic an outlaw.
3. It has placed prohibition of the drink traffic in the basic law of the land, the Constitution.
4. It has removed from the landscape unsightly advertisements of alcoholic beverages.
5. It has proclaimed to the other nations of the world that the United States of America is willing to lead the way in a great moral reform.
6. It has brought comfort and happiness into the homes of countless families whose heads formerly were habitues of the saloon.
7. —It has enabled many a former drinker to throw off the habit and live a life of sobriety.
8. It has made possible high school and college education for hundreds of young men and women who otherwise would have been obliged to go to work and support their families.
9. It has helped a large number of individuals not only to become self-supporting but to accumulate savings accounts and buy homes and automobiles.
10. It has rendered efficient as skilled workmen those who before prohibition could not hold a job.
11. It has removed temptation from the pathway of former victims of the liquor habit and helped them to recover their self respect not to become worthy citizens.

relieving the monotony of the winter menu. A short business session followed, with brief discussion of plans for some planting along the Lincoln highway in this vicinity, in co-operation with the state highway department. Mrs. Durkes, chairman of conservation was appointed to have charge of this.

Plans for garden and flower show for the coming year were also discussed and it was decided by a majority of those present, that it seemed advisable to hold one show only each season, alternating the summer garden show and the iris show. For 1931 the garden show will be the main feature, reserving the iris show for 1932, and it is hoped and expected that by the time of the latter date, there will be a large and varied display of iris of named varieties; but for 1931, garden lovers are urged to plant their plantings for a summer garden show of all seasonable flowers and vegetables, the exact date to be announced later.

Then following the main feature of the program, the debate on the momentous question "Resolved: It Does Not Pay to Pick Up Pins." The affirmative side was represented by Mrs. Durkes and Mrs. Moore, the latter taking the place of Mrs. Ruth Hussey, who was unable to be present. The negative side was upheld by Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Sunday. The arguments on both sides were interesting and impressive—we would say convincing—and at times the tension and hilarity ran high. We were told that the unemployment situation, the farm surplus, prevalence of disease, the economic condition of the country, habits of thrift, business tension, suffering of all kinds and its relief, hinged on picking up or not picking up pins. One of the debaters even suggested that an extra session of Congress and a Constitutional amendment might be necessary to decide the question, but since that seemed impractical it was decided to solve it by a vote of those present. A secret ballot was taken, which resulted in a decision for the negative majority of one vote.

The program was presented by the Department of American Homes, with Mrs. Earl Buck as chairman, and all agreed that it was a pleasant change from the heavier programs that are customary and at the same time furnished much real interesting information.

Tuning Up!

ETHAN ALLEN'S BIRTH

On Jan. 10, 1737, Ethan Allen, famous American soldier, was born at Litchfield, Conn. He moved to Vermont in 1769 and took an active part in that state's controversy with New York over land grants.

At the outbreak of the Revolution Allen organized an expedition against Ticonderoga. On the morning of May 10, 1775, he surprised the British garrison and forced its commander to surrender "in the name of the great Jehovah and the Continental Congress."

Allen later was sent on secret missions to Canada and did good service in Montgomery's expedition. He was captured near Montreal and sent to England. Some months later he was sent back to this country and, after being held prisoner in Halifax and New York, was exchanged.

On his return to Vermont, he was breveted a lieutenant colonel by Congress and became brigadier general in the Vermont militia.

First Pictures After Revolt in Panama

To the American state department, it was not "just another revolution" when President Florencio Harmodio Arosemena, of Panama, and his government were ousted by a sudden rebel uprising in which nine persons were killed and fourteen, including an American newspaperman, were wounded. For it was feared that safety of the Panama Canal and residents of the Canal Zone might be threatened. Pictured above is a scene at the Canal Zone border, closely guarded by U. S. Troops on the right and by volunteer Panamanian guards on their side of the line. Both were on guard against further outbreaks. At the right, in another of the first pictures from the revolt to reach this country, you see how volunteer civil guards gathered at the central police station in Panama City to receive arms and ammunition. A few hours before, the revolutionaries had surprised members of the government in their homes, while others attacked and captured the police station. After securing the resignation of President Arosemena, Dr. E. J. Alfaro, Panama's Minister to the U. S. was called home to assume the presidency.

Drought Continues
In Some Sections

Washington, Jan. 9.—(AP)—It took the midnight hour of New Year's to end officially the record breaking drought of 1930, for in reality it isn't over yet.

The Weather Bureau, compiling its preliminary figures for rainfall during last year, today found that draught records of all time had been smashed in twenty states while a number of others were saved only by downpours late in the year which made up the summer shortage.

The rain shortage continues, the Bureau reported, in the area bounded by the Appalachian mountains on the east, the Ohio river on the south and the Mississippi to the west. Rainfall in Illinois during 1930 was 78 per cent of normal. As reported by the Bureau the normal rainfall for the state is 36.4. In 1930 it was 28.0.

TONS OF BUTTER
Washington —(UP)—Data collected by the census bureau in its census of manufacturers taken in 1930 shows that production of butter in the United States in the preceding year totaled 1,518,894,529 pounds, valued at $664,415,577. The figures included whey butter and butter oil.

J. Fred Shean, editor of the Uniontown, Pa., Morning Herald and Evening Genius, says:

"A paragrapher remarks, 'Wooling prosperity with slogans is like trying to win a modern girl with poetry.'"

"Apt alliteration's artful aid may originate pretty slogans, but the necessary punch lies in the prosaic routine of every-day co-ordination of a city's human and economic units."

"Firms spend millions in popularizing slogans—but not until they have produced a quality product."

"Advertising and show windows attract buyers into a store. It is quality and service which hold them to that store."

"Cities are no different. Between cities competition for diversified industry or what not ranks among the country's big businesses. It is teamwork between individuals, groups of individuals and economic influences intelligently arrived at and intelligently and persistently pursued which is the difference between a city merely with a slogan and a city which translates 'sloganitis' into 'actionitis'."

Calling Things By Their Names

Much of the confusion in the world is caused by failing to call things and persons by their names.

By REV. MORTON W. HALE
Pastor Congregational Church

Mr. Black is called Mr. White, light is called dark, and dark light. Joy is named sorrow and sorrow is called joy.

Liberty is bondage and bondage is liberty; righteousness is sin and sin is righteousness. Very much of the strife and turmoil in the world would be eliminated if things and persons were called by their names. Turn to God's word for proof of such confusion.

I. "Wine is a mocker, stronger is a brawler; and whosoever erreth thereby is not wise."

How many who are demanding the repeal of the 18th Amendment are calling Wine by its name? Wine and all its kindred beverages are of the mocker family and whosoever, rich or poor, educated or uneducated is deceived and calleth it by another name is not wise.

II. Wine is sorrow.
It is called joy and rejoicing.

Listen—
"Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions? Who hath complaining? Who hath wound without cause? Who hath redness of eyes?"

They that tarry long at the wine. I urge you to call Wine and all its kindred by its name—

WINE IS SORROW!

III. Bootlegging and all associated lines of business, whether licensed or not, is sin. Read again—"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink." Call the business by its name.

It is WOE from start to finish.

IV. When Liberty is Bondage.

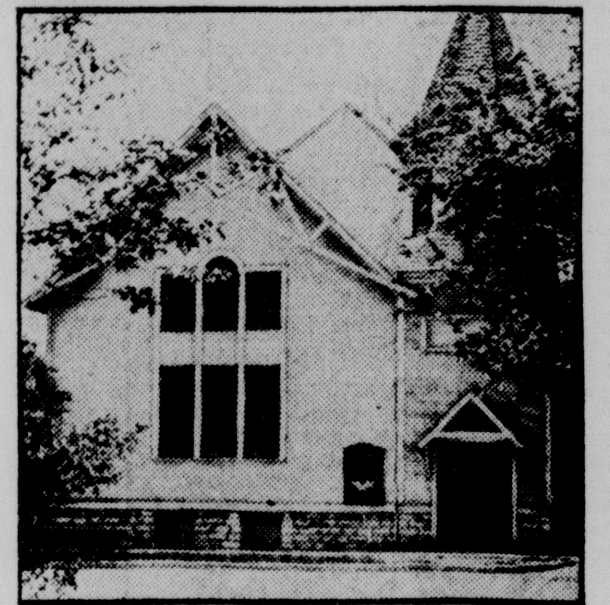

A certain bondage has been called liberty so long that many have come to think that Liberty is its name. But God has said, "It is not good to eat flesh or drink wine nor do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth." Can you conceive anything that God says "is not good" as having the name Liberty?

Its name is BONDAGE.

V. Sin is death, not life.

"For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Let us call things by their name.

Palmyra—Murrell, Melvin and Roy Kendall of Sterling spent the past week on the farm with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Kendall.

Mrs. Paul Harms and two daughters and Mrs. Alfred Strook of Sterling motored to New Bedford Monday of last week also Thursday to visit the ladies grandmother, Mrs. George Osborn who is seriously ill with double pneumonia.

Mrs. Sam Rgodes, son Vernon and daughter Lorraine were afternoon callers at the I. J. Kendall home Thursday. The young folks enjoyed coasting on the big hill.

Glenn Kendall and family of Ashton ate supper Friday evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Kendall.

del. Mr. Kendall informs the management of the Pastime theater of Ashton put on their first tackle program New Years eve to a full house and received many compliments. They are also equipped to put on street shows during the summer months.

Election of officers held Wednesday, January 7 at the home of Mrs. Charles Mannon of Palmyra occurred at the first meeting of the new year of the Prairieville Social Circle. Mrs. Mannon is one of our new members and we are glad to open the new year with her. Part of the ladies saw a comforter and the rest were rug rugs. When dinner was announced the comforter lacked three of four knots of being done. The usual scramble dinner was served to which all did justice. After dinner the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Paul Harms. The meeting opened by a prayer by Mrs. Kendall. Singing was omitted, the song leader being absent, and no piano was available. Twenty-one members answered the roll call with three guests and five children present. Reports from all of the committees were read and approved closing the program for the year 1930. The charity committee found a family who will receive food donations as needed until the husband can get work. This was decided by a unanimous vote of the Circle membership. The following officers were elected for 1931:

President—Mrs. Bertha Frederick
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Helen Overcash
Secretary—Mrs. Bertha Kendall
Treasurer—Mrs. Alice Willy

Several letters of thanks for plants, flowers, fruit and toys were read. Mrs. Strook and Mrs. Harms also expressed their thanks for flowers sent for their grandmother. The flower fund was taken after which Miss Mildred Reed gave a reading entitled, "Socks Caducaet," followed by a short poem by Mrs. Gora Beaver entitled, "Why Mary and I get along so well." Two guessing contests were enjoyed by all after which the meeting adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Alice Willy of Dixon.
